

Dynamic Languages Day 2006

Finding the Room

The Dynamic Languages Day is held at campus Etterbeek of the Vrije Universiteit Brussel, in room E0.05. You can find instructions on how to reach the campus at the VUB's website at <http://www.vub.ac.be/english/infoabout/campuses/>, this document is intended to help you find room E0.05 once you're at or close to the campus.

Coming by Metro

If you're coming by metro, you should take metro line 1A to metro station "Petillon". If you're coming from the city centre, that means you should take line 1A in the direction of "Herrmann-Debroux". Watch out because in some stations metro trains for line 1A and 1B arrive on the same platform, but you should not take a 1B metro. The line and direction of each train is clearly indicated on displays at the platform and in the train itself.

(1) In metro station Petillon, take the exit "Vrijwilligerslaan/VUB". When you exit the metro station, turn right and follow the street "Vrijwilligerslaan" straight on. (2) At the first crossing with traffic lights, just continue straight on to the "Schoofslaan" street. (3) At the next crossing, you have reached the campus and are standing in front of building Y.

Coming by Train

The train station of Etterbeek is next to the campus. To get to the campus you simply exit the train station and turn right. At the next crossing, turn right again. Walk a bit further and you'll have reached entrance "11" to the campus (indicated in red on the campus map).

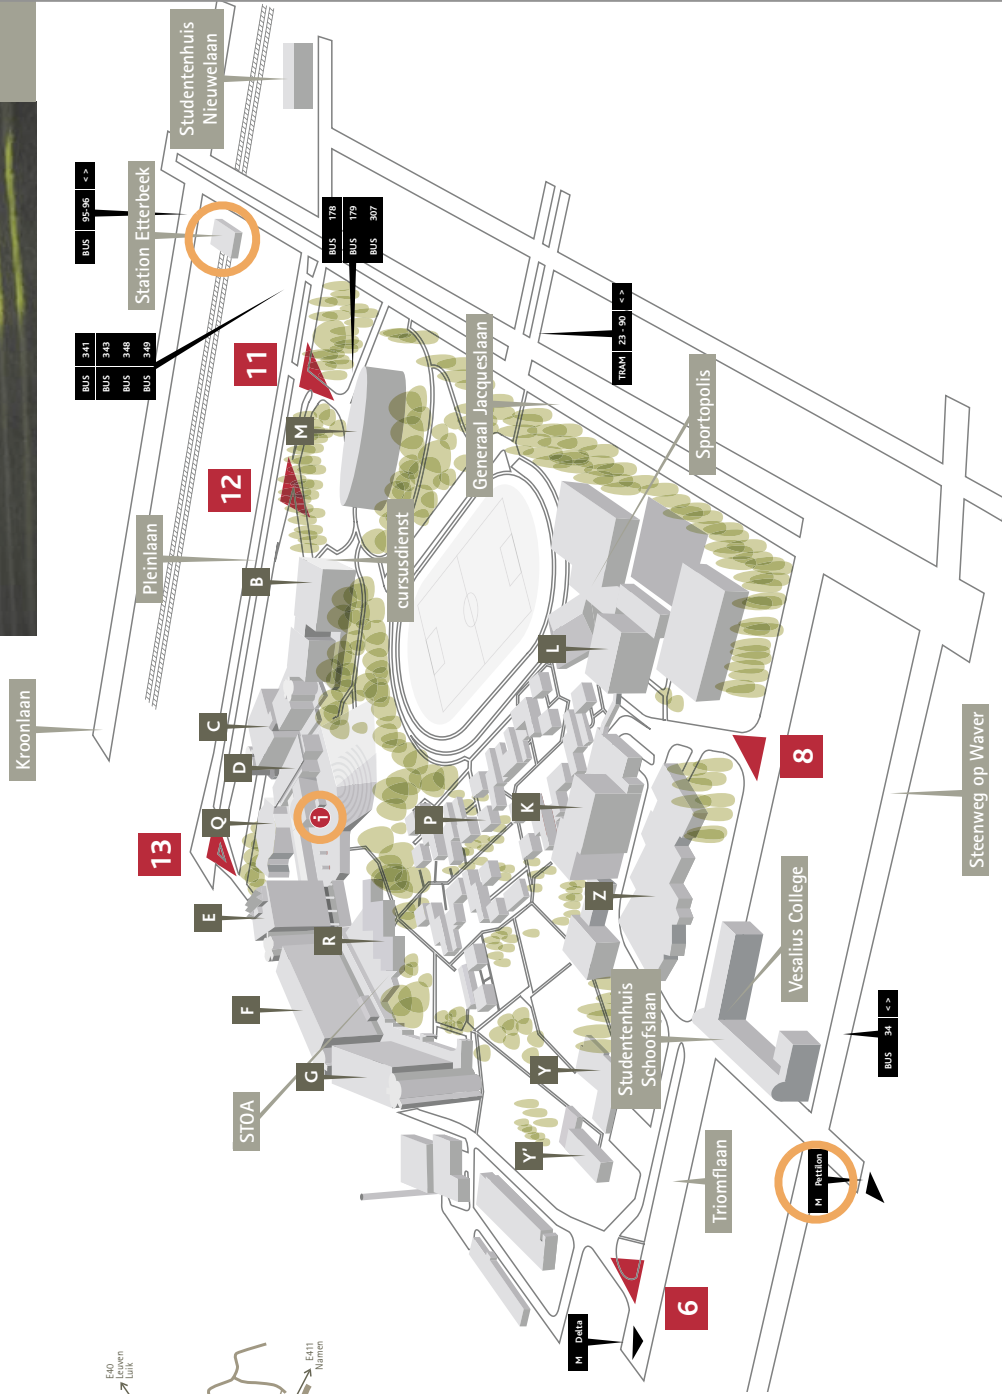

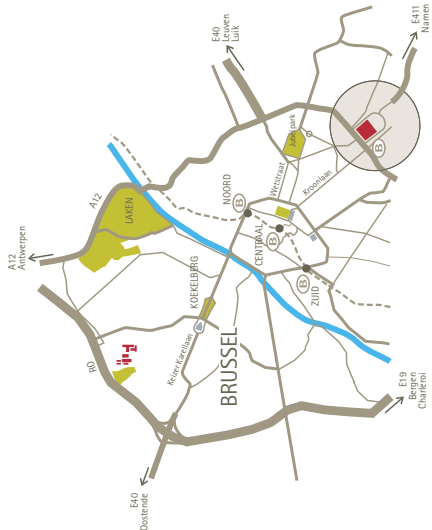

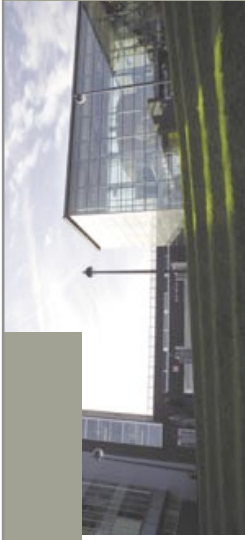

On the Campus

Room E0.05 is on the basement level of building E. On the campus map, the building is located in the top north corner. To reach the basement level of E, you should enter building D (!) through the entrance indicated with the encircled red "i" on the map. When you enter building D, there should be stairs up on the right, and stairs down on the left. Take the stairs down and follow the signs directing you to DLD!
